SURJECT : Comments on NEW Plan for Auti-Castro Operations

1. The Poriniento Revolucionario del Pueblo (RT) has substitued a plan for the conduct of anti-Castro operations. The original was received from the RGP Chief, Panual Antonio Ray y Sivero, in Riami on 17 June 1961 and a copy of it handcarried to Scalquarters on 19 June 1961. It is our understanding that certain (to us unspecified) elements in the United States Government view the Ray plan with from feeling that the "take" in the way of information and the maintenance of a resistance organization in Cuba would be worth the price.

2. We have been asked to execute on the MC plan. Attached are the comments of Mr. (Michael Taylor), forwarly of this Section, and several members of the Will/M staff. Paragraph 6 was substited by Mr. Dave Phillips, Chief, Will/M ropagands. I night add that no cas is in agreement with the entire paper. We all agree, however, with the conclusion that the plan, as substitted, is not not not report from this or any other U. S. Government agency. We see little chance for a researable return for ever unless real control by the provider of the funds is built into the plan.

COLUMN OF THE MED OFFICE PROCESA

- 1. The MEP plan presented by Manolo Ray proposes, in brief, that the MEP be provided with funds in the amount of $2,343,000 for a six-month period, with which to mount anti-Costro operations. It is assumed that additional financing would be provided, at a rate exceeding $2,000,000 per year, until the objectives were achieved.
- 2. No where in the plan is there any statement as to what return, if any, the providers of the funds would receive for their support, other than the incoverage that the money had been provided for furtherance of the desirable goal of bringing about the desirable of the Castro regime.
- 3. It is noteworthy that the plan insists that the PRP retain complete and sole control of all the operations contemplated. Thus, it states, on page 6, that:

"Contributions will be received without compromising the responsibility for decisions and organization of the plans. This does not rule out our search for commelling and coordination with other factors present, but without ever surrembering the responsibility and absolute control of the operations. (Univerlining abbail)

It also appears to be the NEP view that its position should be enalogous to that of a government-in-exile which has been recognised as the rightful regime of its country. Thus the plan states that:

- ".....vith the governments willing to support us we should establish high-level contact which vill more it possible to discuss questions of basic policy of events and plans opportunely, on a mutual footing." (Underlining added)
- 4. The operations contemplated by the EPP are not too dissimilar from those proposed by the \(\text{ii}\)/4/F4 Section for FY 1952. They include the operation of maritime assets capable of reaching all Cuban coasts, the operation of asrial supply craft (from two bases), the training and infiltration of \(\text{k}\)/T operators and intelligence agents, support of internal guerrillas, and the training of eight or ten 190-sun groups for introduction into Cuba at the right time. (There is also considerable stress given to the mounting of extensive psychological variate). The EEP plan would pose rany of the problems that any F2 program does -- the when, where, how, and how such questions involved in procuring and operating air and maritime bases and the policy questions relating to actions which include sabotage and active resistance.

- 5. It is our view that the PSP plan abould not be supported in its present form for these reasons:
- a. The NTP socia exclusive control of the anti-Castro resistance. The plan itself states that the best hope for the Cuban people is offered by the set of ideas and aims of the desocratic left. Aside from the truth or falsity of that statement, the FTP is in no position to claim effective leadership of the anti-Castro resistance. There have been, and are many groups in that field. The MTP has no record of action of which we have reliable evidence which would argue for giving them preferential status. In specific instances their claim to certain capabilities have been tested and found vanting. It is our view that reliance upon groups as such, with no control, is detrimental to operational achievement.
- b. The MP seetz blant-check financial support while retaining complete control of operations. So his as we are excise there is no provision in either Agency or U.S. Soverment policies and regulations which would permit the handing over of the substantial sums envisaged by the MP plan without retention by the dama of the same measure of control over the use of the funds. The MP plan, e.g., almost certainly would involve operations mounted from bases within U.S. territorial jurisdiction, yet those operations would remain under MP absolute control. We don't that the F.B.I., Customs and Imalgration Service, Coust Guard and other concerned agencies would ever agree to any such arrangement where U.S. territory is concerned, and we would certainly be in no position to wouch for the IMP operations. Anti-Castro operations mounted from anywhere cataliae of Cuba are going to be attributed to the United States. Since that is the case, the U.S. Government must control those operations as effectively as it can.
- of finds. While governments, including in some instances governments—in-exile, can be treated as equals by the U.S. Covernment, there is no precedent for extending such treatment to a private organization. To do so in this case would result in the arcusing of the bitter smalty of the anti-Pay resistance groups, of which there are many, without any corresponding benefit.
- d. The this from MT operations would not justify the cost surjeased. The MT taim, to date, whother in intelligence or in registence activity, has been negligible. There are many news sturies which refer to the MT as the largest and best organized of the registence groups. The MT plan claims organization down to the township level and states that:

The MRP has an extensive communication net and is compotent in obtaining indispensible elements of intelligence.

This may be so, but we are not more of any extensive valid information from the 'SP of any important resistance activity conducted by them. The entire history of Samey operations brooking groups suggest the inedvisebility of handing over substantial sums in the hope of a future

"take". Aside from certain tested limison arrangements, our "take" is taken by agents serving under our direction, requidless of the groups to which they do or to not belong.

- 6. It should be pointed out that from a political standpoint the MRP organization and plan have elements worthy of consideration. The most important is that the MTP program is one that is attractive to the Cuban masses because, of all the exile programs, that of the 100 is the meanest to the originally stated but becrayed platform of the Castro revolution. For the same reason the 1917 is acceptable to many liberal Latin American governments which do not consider supporting other exile groups. The MTP offers the people of Cuba a positive program of social and economic reform. (Whether such a program would be compatible with U. S. interests is, of course, a natter of controversy.) However, in the political sphere the program appears to break away strongly from the 1940 constitution. In other words it may be "Fidelismo sin Fidel". There are other Cuban exile groups who propose social and economic reforms similar to the MAP in which they attempt to base these reforms on some legal continuity of government; that is, a return to the 1949 constitution as a basis for a democratic government in Cuba.
- 7. In short, we believe that the HIP plan is unrealistic and unworthy of further consideration in its present form. Developments within internal resistance in Cuba indicate that the HTP is becarring part of a unified resistance and the MTP personnel inside Cubs have denied Fanolo Ray as an external leader. Our review of the 17P position inside Cuba does not indicate that the ITT has the resources for as extensive a plan as presented nor can the internal imP hope to direct such a plan in confunction with other resistance elements. Even if audi a plan were feasible, we do not see any possibility of securing a reasonable return for the tremendous amount of money required for this plan unless some real comirsl is agreed to by all and made a part of the plan. Taking into account the consolidation of resistance elements presently taking place in Cuba, it is the Agency's conception that we can best accomplish action operations against the Castro regime by dealing directly with this unified group or its representatives in other groups. Exteries and financial support would be furnished these groups as they reveal they have the assets to accomplish specific operations and Agency-trained agents and communication equipment voted be introduced to the various groups in an effort to have some control and direction of all efforce undertaken. It is presently planned that the HTP, as one of these groups, would receive assistance and direction in the future as specified above. However, it is full that the present situation among the resistance closents within Cuba male any support of this grandices plan submitted by the MTP impractical at this time.
